"THAT HAS SUCH MEN AND WOMEN"

"Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow." Has any generation of high school students faced a world more exciting than the world you face? All of the high qualities of which youth dreams will be needed to restore sanity amid the universal madness. When you put your books away to help in the heart-breaking task of bringing sweetness and order back to a civilization twisted with hate and whirling into darkness, you will need the shining armor you have dreamed of.

Courage you will need most of all; courage to keep your face toward reality; courage to stand up against the unjust, the dishonest, the selfish. You will need to be Greeks in your own beloved America; you will think, you will talk, you will fight if need be, for what is best for all the people. You will need to be more unselfish than your elders have been; you will need to be wiser. With you rests the stern choices: Will you have fickle and violent masses or public-spirited, educated citizens? Will you have government by and for all men or by and for one or a few? Will you have slavery or freedom?

Our generation will be old soon. You can give us more than we deserve — a brave, new world.

After a careful analysis, the 1941 Seniors have concluded that they stand at the crossroads. Behind them lie four years of study, Freshman picnics, Sophomore Skating Parties, Junior Mixers, a Junior Prom, a Senior Carnival, an All-School Festival, Guidance Conferences, a Senior Class Play, Athletics, Music, Clubs, a May Festival, Graduation, and a Senior Farewell. Now, with their luggage of high school memories still remaining, and with an eager spirit and an open mind, they pause at the CROSSROADS to cast one last longing look before departing on one of the many roads leading into life.

ELEVEN B CLASS

Sponsor: MRS. MINNIE BOGARDUS

Officers: PRESIDENT: BOB POLLOCK

VICE-PRESIDENT: BOB HARRIS

SECRETARY: BILLIE CALLAHAN

The projects of the Eleven B Class have been both successful and worthwhile, due to capable leadership and sponsorship.

The social activities of the year included a skating party, a Christmas party, and a class picnic at the end of the year. This class has cooperated with the Eleven A Class in their various projects.

The Eleven B Class has high scholastic standing and takes a very prominent part in the extra-curricular activities of the school. Many of the students assume roles of leadership in music, athletics, and clubs.

Forty-four individualists represent the Sophomore Class in all phases of Laboratory School life. These students are active in athletics, music, language clubs, special hobby or interest clubs, in Blue Tri, Hi-Y, and many of the other organizations.

Among their contributions to the social functions of the school were: their annual Sophomore Skating Party, and an original melodrama written by two of the class members and given for the All-School Festival.

Much credit is due Bob McFall, one member of this class, who assisted members of the Analyst Staff in the taking of pictures of important school affairs and personalities.

PRESIDENT: RALPH JOHNSTON
VICE-PRESIDENT: DICK CRONIN
SECRETARY: DIANA SWEENEY
TREASURER: LOUISE MCFALL

The past year has proved a very successful one for the sixty-five members of the Freshman Class. Their activities calendar was full and included many noted events.

Most outstanding among these activities were: the Freshman Revue, which was a variety show presenting the many talented students in this class, given as their contribution to the All-School Festival, and the Freshman English Class production of the great Shakespearean tragedy, "Julius Caesar." Students planned, directed, and presented this play in its original form, with Miss Eleanor Dunlap as sponsor. Other parties and picnics added to the social life of the Freshman Class.

EIGHTH GRADE

Junior high school activities are especially valuable to the Eighth Grade students, since they will enter high school next year. Members of the Eighth Grade are divided into class clubs, which have parties, picnics, and programs as special events. Officers are: John Frischman, Jane Gillis, Frances Morris, and Dale Alfred. Sponsors are Miss Flora Smith, Mrs. Caroline Kelso, and Mrs. Mildred Jansen.

SEVENTH GRADE

The Seventh Grade is divided into three classes, sponsored by Miss Florise Hunsucker, Miss Frances Henry, and Miss Hallie Smith and is organized into class clubs, having club constitutions, slogans, songs, and club pins. Activities of these clubs include special holiday programs and parties. These students take an active part in junior high functions of the school.

With luggage in hand, with hopeful spirits, they pause . . .

BAND

The Laboratory School Band has been very active this season, having played at all of the home football and basketball games, marched in important city parades, and entered the music contest. Officers of this organization are: William Shelburn, Robert Gillum, and Marjorie Eason. Mr. Arthur Hill directs the group.

ORCHESTRA

The Laboratory School Orchestra accepts students interested in instrumental work and having suitable talent to merit membership. This organization is important for the part it played in P. T. A. meetings, Children's Theater productions, and in the play, "An Album of American Music." Officers of this group are: Tommie Patrick, Ulta Thomas, and Jack Hill. Mr. Arthur Hill directs the group.

SENIOR MIXED CHORUS

For a newly organized group, the Mixed Chorus has been very busy. Early in the fall, representatives were sent to participate in the All State Choral Group at Indianapolis. Later the Mixed Chorus appeared before P. T. A. meetings, assisted with "An Album of American Music," and closed a successful year with its entrance in the District Music Contest and its participation in the All-City Music Festival. Miss Deneta Sankey directs the seventy members of this group.

SENIOR GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Forty-two members represent the State High Senior Girls' Glee Club. Activities of this group have been: the presentation of a Christmas cantata, participation in "An Album of American Music," the District Contest, the State Choral Group, and the All-City Music Festival. Miss Deneta Sankey directs the group.

JUNIOR MIXED GLEE CLUB

The Junior Mixed Glee Club, directed by Miss Vula Starn, employs the talent of junior high school students, who sing a variety of selections written for girls, boys, and mixed voices. Participation in the "Album of American Music" and the Junior High Music Festival were the most important activities of the year.

ANALYST STAFF

The publication of the 1941 Analyst was made possible through the cooperation of the Senior Class under the leadership of the editor, Marylee Manson, and the assistant editor, Floyd Smith.

BLUE TRI

Over a hundred girls are members of the Blue Tri Club, an organization which has assumed an important role in school affairs. Prominent activities of the club have been: service work at Thanksgiving, a Christmas party for needy children, Christmas and Easter school convocations, a Chili Supper-Hop, and the "Sycamore Strut."

Success of this club is due to the leadership of Miss Eleanor Dunlap, Genevieve Klueh, Betty Lou Denges, Betty Lee Lawrence, Virginia Lundwall and the cooperation of the club as a whole.

HI-Y

"To create maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character" is the purpose of the Hi-Y Club, an organization unique because of its selective membership system. New members are chosen annually by the old members and a faculty advisory committee. Officers are: James Bowman, Robert Torrence, Vernon Dix, Frank Coverstone, Floyd Smith, and Charles Kelley.

IN THE NEWS

"Julius Caesar" Presented By 9B English Class

The original version of the Shakespearean tragedy "Julius Caesar" was given by Miss Eleanor Dunlap and her 9B English class, first for a convocation program, and then for the parents of the students.

All costuming, including the making of armor, directing and stage management was done by the students. Lighting effects and sound effects were outstanding.

History Groups Plan Interesting Activities

New Harmony became the destination of many history students early in the fall, when an experiment was conducted by the Indiana State Teachers' College to estimate the value of visualized teaching. Students travelled by bus to this historic country and learned about the pioneer movement there.

Other students spent an entire day learning about the same movement through an interesting lecture on the same subject at the school.

Tests were given to prove which type of instruction proved most enlightening to the students.

Terre Haute was the subject for study in one of Miss Florise Hunsucker's classes. Students in this class delved into the subject from all possible angles, and after finishing this huge unit, discovered how little they had known about their own city until they studied it. This unit proved especially valuable in that its purpose was to encourage better citizenship.

Civic Occupations were the chief interests for another junior high history class. As a part of this work, students made field trips to the newspaper offices, telephone companies, Friendly Inn, Freight Lines, telegraph offices, and local stores. Learning by doing is quite prevalent in classes today.

Sophomores Hold Skating Party

New stars and old favorites were present at the annual Sophomore Skating Party. Everyone reported that fun was had by all. This is one of the annual affairs held to increase the class treasury.

Unique Projects Develop As School Progresses

To close a discussion on Chinese novels, the Senior Book Club held a Chop Suey Supper. Food, including chop suey, tea, and almond cakes, was served with a genuine Far Eastern style. Chinese music, favors, and the game of Chinese Checkers added an Oriental touch to the occasion.

On Valentine's Day, Mothers' and Daughters' met at a banquet given by members of Mrs. Kelso's Triple H Home Economics Club. The girls in this club planned, cooked, and served a very appetizing dinner with the assurance of more experienced cooks. Colorful Valentine decorations added to the festivity of the occasion.

Two important clubs prepared huge feeds for the school!

The Hi-Y "dished out" the beans at its annual bean feed to a large number of people. Pickles, pies, and celery added glamour to the tasty beans which the boys had cooked.

The Blue Tri originated the idea of having a Chili Supper-Hop. At this affair, not only was delicious chili served, but good music was also rendered by State's Jazz Band. A mixer, after the supper, closed the evening.

Carnivals Make Hit

Management on a very large scale was necessary for the All-School Festival. Over twenty-five features, from the midway to the freaks, were presented. The Melodramas attracted the most people with exception of the Carnival Restaurant. A "Bean Hitler" booth was one of the most original features of this annual affair.

The Senior Carnival also presented some new ideas in modern sideshow tactics. Everything at this carnival developed a patriotic theme, thus keeping in tune with the times.

Class Groups Busy

The "Test Tube" was revived this year by members of Miss Margaret Gillum's 11A English class, who desired, not only to re-issue the school paper, but also to gain some practice in writing this type of composition. Although the paper was changed to a mimeographed form, its original, newsy spirit still remains.

Early in the fall, after a very impressive installation ceremony, the first chapter of the National Junior Classical League to be established in Terre Haute, was organized in The Laboratory School. Members of this club are students who have had advanced Latin, and who desire to further their interests in this language and its traditions.

Music Department Presents "An Album of American Music"

Music gained the spotlight on January 22, when a cast of over one hundred and fifty students from the choral and instrumental groups of the school presented an original production, written by Marylee Manson.

The program set forth new ideas about the value of music in understanding a people and expressed the idea that all music has its place in American life. Music of the past and present was presented; a hint about music of the future was disclosed.

Miss Deneta Sankey directed this play with the assistance of Miss Vula Starn.

Important features of the production were: the colorful costumes of all in the cast, the portrayal of all groups of people from the early stages of America to the modern era, the scenery, which was very appropriate in suggesting time, and the lighting effects, which added tone and color.

Election Attracts Interest

The student council, for the first time, sponsored an all-school general election this year, at which time all class officers were elected. This election was conducted by members of the Senior Civics Class who were well-read on the proper procedures of an election.

After the new officers had been elected, the student council sponsored a very impressive installation service, which was held in the open court of the school. The student council hopes to make this a tradition.

New Jazz Band is Formed

A new State High Jazz Band was formed during this school year, by members of the regular band, who were also interested in playing dance music. This group, which is being directed by Jay Meek, a college music student, has already filled several engagements. The Jazz Band was first introduced in "An Album of American Music."

Student Council

The Student Council has functioned efficiently as an independent group under the sponsorship of Miss Meribah Clark, and the leadership of Mary Ruth Buzan, Virginia Abbinett, and Jackie Hannah. This group has successfully published the "State Hi-Way" Handbook, presented convocations, sponsored pep sessions, and organized a general election to elect the officers of grades seven to twelve. Many reforms and improvements have been proposed by this council.

Senior Book Club

Vicarious experiences have been enjoyed by members of Miss Margaret Gillum's Senior Book Club during its club year. Interesting and varied have been the programs presenting book reports, and travel talks on China, and on Hawaii.

Most original of the activities was the genuine Chinese Chop Suey Supper, held after a discussion of Chinese life in novels.

Officers of the club are: Virginia Lundwall, Betty Lou Denges, and Charles Kelley.

French Club

French customs, French songs, and stories are the chief interests of the French Club, directed by Mrs. Mary Olga Peters. A French convocation and several parties constituted the club's program for the year. Officers are: Frank Coverstone, Dick Cronin, Anne Cooke, and Leland Creighton.

Junior Classical League

Advanced Latin has acquired a new meaning at State this year, since a chapter of the National Classical League was organized.

Rigorous questioning with blindfolds comprised a solemn initiation service held to inaugurate the founding of the club. These august leaders preside: Miss Gertrude Ewing, Bob Ferguson, Vernon Dix, Bob Nagel, Marcella McIntyre and Marylee Manson.

Junior Red Cross

Service is the ultimate objective of the Junior Red Cross, a council composed of elementary and secondary home room representatives.

Business of this council is directed by Miss Carle, sponsor, and these officers: Joe Schell, Betty Buzan, Mary Pine, and Charlotte Kelley.

Junior Book Club

Books have been the chief interest of the Junior Book Club. Every Tuesday students meet with Miss Gypsy Wilson to discuss interesting books, read excerpts from stories, plan special programs, and enjoy parties.

Miami White, Bill Starkey, and Marva Welton preside as officers.

Latin Club

The Latin Club, sponsored by Mrs. Mary Olga Peters and led by Ralph Johnston and Bob Lacy, enrolls beginning Latin students who are interested in developing, not only an appreciation of ancient language, but a better understanding of modern speech. This club held a joint Christmas party with the French Club and hopes to plan other such meetings in the future.

Art Club

Students find in the Art Club many opportunities for valuable training in art techniques. This club was organized by Miss Wenonah Goshorn to enable students to further specific art projects. Bill Krach, James Woods, Robert Tirey, and Dan Shannon are club officers.

TRIPLE H CLUB

The Triple H Club, promoting "Health, Home, and Happiness," has grown in size and activity during the past year. Some of its functions were: the selling of popcorn balls to make money to fill Christmas baskets, a Mothers' and Daughters' Banquet, and a "Spring Dance" given in co-operation with Home Ec clubs in other schools. Officers of this club, sponsored by Mrs. Caroline Kelso, are: Bettie Phipps, Alice Butland, Joan Daggy, and Evalin Floyd.

Etiquette Club

Various phases of etiquette are discussed each week at the meeting of the Junior High Etiquette Club, directed by Mrs. Mildred Jansen. Dramatization of correct social usage has been the chief function of this club. Officers are: Helen Dennis, Wanda Pickens, and James Brown.

Science Club

Science marches on! The Junior Discovery Club, sponsored by Mr. Vincent O'Leary and led by Tommie Patrick, Robert Gillum, and Standau Weinbrecht, has been exploring the realm of science. To begin a scientific year, five members and their sponsor attended the annual meeting of the Junior Academy of Science. Upon return, the students introduced club projects suggested by this meeting.

Forum Club

Problems confronting the city, nation, and world are subjects for discussions held every Wednesday in the Forum Club, with Mrs. Minnie Bogardus as sponsor. Officers of this chapter are: Georgianna Sauer, Genevieve Klueh, and Vernon Dix.

The Forum Club sent several representatives to the State Forum Conference held in early spring.

Bowling Club

Under the direction of Orvel Strong a new club has been organized. The Bowling Club was formed when students expressed the desire to learn more about this sport. Thirty members comprise the club. Competitive play is made possible within this club since the members are divided into six different teams.

Senior G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association is a club having for its purpose that of stimulating interest in girls' health and promoting high ideals and sportsmanship. Regular periods of games are held, offering a variety of games requiring skill and fair play.

Annually, the G. A. A. sponsors a May Festival, held in honor of a May Queen selected from the Senior Class, to raise funds to buy awards of merit for outstanding girls.

Directing this athletic club are: Miss Mary Fread, sponsor; Billie Callahan, Alice Butland, and Juanita Wallace.

Junior G. A. A.

The Junior G. A. A. is an athletic club comprised of members of junior high school, and has for its purpose that of providing an opportunity for younger girls to improve their skills and to enjoy sportsmanship in recreation. An All-City Volleyball Play Day was the biggest event of the season.

School Patrol

Routes to the Laboratory School are safer because of the well-trained and efficient School Patrol, supervised by Lloyd Williams. This patrol is divided into morning and evening squads, which are headed by majors, captains, and lieutenants. These squads are stationed at unguarded corners and railroads. Rewards are given for loyal service.

Fast and diminutive, the Young Sycamores of State High improved as the season grew older. Their 1940-41 season record showed 7 wins against 13 losses. Although blacked by the defeat margin, the Blue and Gold statistics showed, however, that the netters were outscored by an average of only one point per game.

The start of the season looked bad because Coach Paul Wolf had only two returning letter men and no man on the team reached the six-foot mark. But with steady practice and hope, the Blue and Gold netters became a threat to any team that played them.

The State High team reached its height when it scored a 49-33 victory over a strong Clinton outfit at the end of the season, and went to the quarter-finals of the State sectional tourney before being beaten by Garfield 25-21.

Tommy Parkhurst and Hubert Hughes, the only two seniors on the team, were elected co-captains for the year 1940-41. Jim Bowman, junior forward, was elected captain for the year 1941-42.

After the season was over, a gold basketball was awarded to Tommy Parkhurst and letters were presented to the rest of the players.

With only two boys lost by graduation this year, Coach Paul Wolf has high hopes of having a strong team next year.

The Young Sycamore Saplings, under the guidance of Coach Greg Parker, enjoyed a successful season this year. They finished the season with a record of 10 wins against 8 losses. The lower classmen, well trained in basketball fundamentals, appear to be future Varsity material.

FOOTBALL

The State High six-man football team enjoyed a fairly successful season last fall, turning in three victories to four losses. The outstanding game of the Young Sycamores came at the end of the season, when they triumphed over a highly favored Cayuga sextet to gain third place in the Wabash Valley Six-man Football League. This victory also broke a tie between Cayuga and Rockville for the championship, and gave Rockville undisputed possession of the title.

The third season of football at State High was under the leadership of a new coach, Greg Parker, who came to State High from Marshall.

To Captain Bob Nagel and Quarterback Bob Ferguson went awards of gold footballs. To earn a gold ball a boy must participate in the sport for two or more years. Those winning awards of letters included: Bob Torrence, Michael McKissick, Tommie Patrick, Vernon Dix, Frank Coverstone, Jack Thompson, Charles Kelley, and Leland Creighton.

BASEBALL

State High's baseball team saw its second spring this year. The team is coached by Greg Parker who is expecting good results since all but one of the last year's ball club is back. The potentially strong ball club will take to the field against the nines of Shelburn, Rockville, Cayuga, Mecca, West Terre Haute and other strong teams.

Coach Greg Parker was encouraged by a turnout of 27 boys of which 15 were veterans of last year's squad. State High is proud of its lead in playing the Great American Sport which is spreading among high schools up and down the Wabash Valley.

TENNIS

The Young Sycamore Netsmen faced a stiff schedule. With an inexperienced squad, they faced such strong opponents as Wiley, Garfield, and Tech of Terre Haute, and Casey, Jasper, Vincennes, Marshall, Paris, and Shortridge. The Blue and Gold Racqueteers also participated in one of the toughest tournaments of Western Indiana and Eastern Illinois, the Paris Invitational Meet, for the first time in the school's history. Outstanding members of the team are Ed Mabley, Jim Giglio and Sonny Klueh who have been quite adept in early practice sessions.
